

Emergency Response Information and incident reporting Quiz

1) Emergency response information can be provided by:

- a) Keeping a copy of the Hazmat's MSDS with the shipping names
- b) Listing it directly on the shipping papers
- c) Both A & B-
- d) None of the above

2) The yellow section of the ERG:

- a) Lists telephone numbers of emergency response companies.
- b) Lists hazmat in numerical order
- c) List hazmat in alphabetical order
- d) None of the Above

3) The blue section of the ERG

- a) Lists hazmat in numerical order
- b) List hazmat in alphabetical order
- c) Acts as an index for the ERG
- d) None of the Above

4) The orange section of the ERG:

- a) Lists hazmat in numerical order
- b) List hazmat in alphabetical order
- c) Lists suggested distances for protecting people from spill areas
- d) None of the above

5) The green Section of the ERG:

- a) Lists hazmat in numerical order
- b) List hazmat in alphabetical order
- c) Lists suggested distances for protecting people from spill areas
- d) None of the above

6) A telephone report for a Hazmat incident is required if:

- a) A person is hurt
- b) A person is killed
- c) Both A & B
- d) None of the above

7) If an incident occurs during highway transport, you must call:

- a) Your place of business
- b) The nearest police department
- c) PHMSA
- d) The NRC

8) A written report, if required must be filed within:

- a) Two weeks of the incident
- b) Four weeks of the incident
- c) Thirty days of the incident
- d) Sixty days of the incident

9) A written report is generally not required for a minimal release from:

- a) A hazmat packaging
- b) The connection or disconnection of loading or unloading lines
- c) A hazardous waste
- d) None of the Above

10) A written report must be retained at the principal place of business for:

- a) Six months
- b) One year
- c) Two years
- d) Three years